Business Plan

Due: 7th May 2018

Weighting: 50%

This assessment task involves the development and presentation of a business plan.

At a minimum, the plan should include:

1. A cover page;
2. An executive summary;
3. A description of the business opportunity;
4. A description of the mission, vision and culture;
5. An Opportunity Analysis and Research;
6. A Marketing Strategy and Plan; and
7. A Financial Analysis

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Specific skill outcomes: Develop a business plan; Present a business pitch; Undertake a Competency-Based Self Assessment; Develop and implement strategies to respond to competency-based requirements; and Apply ethical principles in business practice
- Generic skill outcomes: Literacy (particularly through the written assignments); Creative thinking and problem-solving skills (particularly though the written assignments); Interpersonal and team and skills (particularly through the class activities); Communication skills (though the oral presentation and class activities); and Critical analysis skills (particularly though the class activities).

Ethics Examination

Due: 4th June 2018

Weighting: 50%

This examination relates principally to ethics and the assessment of ethical dilemmas in practice. Students are expected to become familiar with the Code of Ethics from the Australian Psychological Society and be able to apply this information in response to ethical dilemmas. The assessment will comprise both short answer and essay questions and will be undertaken in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Specific skill outcomes: Develop a business plan; Present a business pitch; Undertake a Competency-Based Self Assessment; Develop and implement strategies to respond to competency-based requirements; and Apply ethical principles in business practice
- Generic skill outcomes: Literacy (particularly through the written assignments); Creative thinking and problem-solving skills (particularly through the written assignments); Interpersonal and team and skills (particularly through the class activities); Communication skills (through the oral presentation and class activities); and Critical analysis skills (particularly through the class activities).

Continuous Practice

Due: 8th June 2018

Weighting: 0%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

This assessment task involves students examining the competencies that are articulated by the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council and selecting at least three competencies that they will seek to further develop during the unit. They will subsequently develop a plan of activities that will enable them to develop the competencies, undertake and record those activities, meet with a peer supervisor, and then meet with an academic within the Organisational Psychology Program to discuss their outcomes. The intention of this assessment is to enable students to develop the skills necessary to undertake personal development plans once they become Registered Psychologists.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Knowledge outcomes: Understand the APS placement program process; Understanding business Planning; Understand small business operations; Understand business marketing; and Understand ethical standards and the regulatory framework
- Generic skill outcomes: Literacy (particularly through the written assignments); Creative thinking and problem-solving skills (particularly through the written assignments);

Interpersonal and team and skills (particularly through the class activities);
Communication skills (through the oral presentation and class activities); and Critical analysis skills (particularly through the class activities).

Interprofessional Education

Due: 8th June 2018

Weighting: 0%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

As general psychologists with an Area of Specialisation (AoPE), organisational psychologists will, at times, work with other health professionals in the provision of psychological services. To develop students skills and knowledge in working with other professionals, Macquarie University has a requirement that students engaged in the provision of health or allied health care complete a series of Interprofessional Education modules. These modules are available through iLearn and students are expected to complete the online modules during PSYO941 and in preparation for placement.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Generic skill outcomes: Literacy (particularly through the written assignments); Creative thinking and problem-solving skills (particularly through the written assignments);
Interpersonal and team and skills (particularly through the class activities);
Communication skills (through the oral presentation and class activities); and Critical analysis skills (particularly through the class activities).

Delivery and Resources

This unit consists of alternating face-to-face and on-line classes. Where a class is delivered on-line, students will be expected to: (a) Review a 20 minute (approx.) video clip, read the relevant chapter in the textbook, together with one or two additional papers, answer questions to a short, on-line quiz, and undertake any activities as directed for that week.

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes. Learning objectives and assessment activities are based on the requirements of a minimum 80% class attendance.

If there are exceptional circumstances where a session must be missed, this will need to be arranged with the unit convener in advance. Failure to do so implies a lack of professionalism.
