Unit description

This unit examines the making, regulating and breaking of deals in the international business community. The unit will canvas the different legal forms of agreements (eg, direct foreign investment, international joint ventures); laws that influence the conduct of business internationally (eg, anti-trust laws, international financial regulation, international bankruptcy, international taxation laws); and the mechanisms available when disputes arise (eg, international arbitration, foreign litigation in domestic courts). Students will develop an understanding of key legal principles underpinning international business transactions from an international law perspective as well as in relation to selected jurisdictions.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Understand the regulatory framework and standards that govern international business transactions and relationships

Demonstrate a sophisticated knowledge and understanding of relevant international agreements and principles that influence international business, domestic legal regime and parties involved in cross-border dealings, and develop an analytical ability to critically assess their application

Evaluate the role of different institutions and organisations in guiding responsible business

Investigate the relationship between international and domestic regulations and the way in which Australia has endorsed those international standards

Identify legal issues, problems and risk factors that a business entity may encounter in operating cross-border transactions, and apply appropriate strategies to overcome these

Analyse the conduct of business in a complex international environment

General Assessment Information

Late Submission

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Special Consideration

Requests for Special Consideration will be dealt with centrally and decisions about the outcome will largely be made centrally.

Moderation

Detailed marking rubrics will be made available on iLearn.

Turnitin

All written assessments are to be submitted via iLearn through Turnitin.

Referencing

All referencing is to be in accordance with AGLC3.

- Analyse the conduct of business in a complex international environment

Class Participation

Due: On Campus Sessions

Weighting: 15%

Students will be assessed through a quiz during the on campus sessions in September 2018. Quiz would include MCQ and short questions. Topics will be announced later.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a sophisticated knowledge and understanding of relevant international agreements and principles that influence international business, domestic legal regime and parties involved in cross-border dealings, and develop an analytical ability to critically assess their application
- Evaluate the role of different institutions and organisations in guiding responsible business

Assignment

Due: 30/09/2018

Weighting: 30%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Students will be required to answer a set question provided within the first four weeks of the semester. Students will be encouraged to reflect not only on their interaction with legal principles, but also with the contextual and ethical issues that have arisen. The paper should be well structured including sub-headings where appropriate. The introduction should set out the scope of the paper. Students need to include sufficient detail of the specific legal principles or regime and analysis/application of that law. Be sure to answer the question asked. The conclusion should include recommendations for law reform, further research and/or creative application of the existing law where appropriate. The assignment should be fully referenced according to the Australian Guide to Legal Citation.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Understand the regulatory framework and standards that govern international business transactions and relationships
- Demonstrate a sophisticated knowledge and understanding of relevant international agreements and principles that influence international business, domestic legal regime and parties involved in cross-border dealings, and develop an analytical ability to critically assess their application
