Following feedback from the supervisor on the last assessed piece of work in AHPG883 (= Presentation to Supervisor), give a brief (500-word) outline of areas which the finished research essay will cover and analytical directions which it will take.

Submit your work to your supervisor via Turnitin in the iLearn unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop and refine the historical research question (relating to an ancient culture) first defined in AHPG883.
- Critically study and interrogate historically all relevant primary sources bearing on the research question.

Make a bibliography list (which you will use in amended form as the bibliography of the eventual research essay). List all modern works which will be referred to in the research essay (note that adding to the bibliography of the research essay items which were first studied after compilation of this annotated bibliography is allowed). The list will not count towards the word limit for this assignment.

Identify the two or three most important modern works. Comment on their strengths and weaknesses relative to the question under examination. Give references as needed (these will count towards the word limit of 1500 words).

Submit your work to your supervisor via Turnitin in the iLearn unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

Research essay

Due: 7 June 2019

Write a research essay (word limit 5000 words including footnotes but not including bibliography) treating your research question in full detail. Draw conclusions as appropriate. Give full references to ancient and modern sources, in one of the forms recommended in the Department of Ancient History essay style guide. You may if you wish include (in amended form if appropriate) your dossier of primary evidence from AHPG883, which will not count towards the word limit. A bibliography should be given: this will be an amended version of the bibliography list submitted for assignment 2 in AHPG884, and will not count towards the word limit. Submit your research essay to your supervisor on or before the due date via Turnitin in the iLearn unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop and refine the historical research question (relating to an ancient culture) first defined in AHPG883.
- Critically study and interrogate historically all relevant primary sources bearing on the research question.
