Unit description

Business today is increasingly confronted with the need to participate in and manage a real-time digital environment. Marketers are expected to adopt digital mindsets and be fluent with digital business strategies. Such understanding and skills help them to take advantage of digital technologies to gain a competitive advantage. This unit develops students' knowledge and skills in digital marketing. The unit focuses on the key concepts and frameworks used in digital marketing strategy, implementation and practice. Attention is given to the use of contemporary digital marketing applications in value creation, customer acquisition, customer retention and development.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Explain the concepts and approaches to e-business marketing

Identify the different elements of the macro and micro-environment that impact on an organisation's e-marketing strategy

Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age

Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
A1 Project	45%	No	As Scheduled
A2 In-Class Activities	15%	No	Week 2-13
A3 Final Examination	40%	No	University Examination Period

A1 Project

Due: As Scheduled

Weighting: 45%

Task Description

The project is designed to provide students with insights into how marketing technologies, tools, and applications can be used to develop and implement digital marketing strategy.

This assessment has several components. First, students will complete a written report on individual basis. Second, working in groups, students will complete a creative production including a website and in-class presentation showcasing their online strategy for a new digital business.

Type of Collaboration

This assignment which will be assessed on both individual and group performance.

Format / Submission

Detailed assessment guide including submission details and marking criteria will be available on the MKTG306 iLearn Unit page

Additional Notes on Late Submissions

Written report and Project Website: No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24-hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty, or in this case zero mark for this assessment). Late submissions will be accepted up to 72 hours after the due date and time. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Special Consideration is submitted and approved.

Presentation: No extension will be granted. Students who are absent or do not participate in the presentation will get 0% automatically.

Transference of marks is not permissible across assessment tasks.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the concepts and approaches to e-business marketing
- Identify the different elements of the macro and micro-environment that impact on an organisation's e-marketing strategy
- Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age
- Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

A2 In-Class Activities

Due: Week 2-13

Weighting: 15%

Task Description

In-class workshop activities are designed to reinforce students' understanding of the course materials through applications. Various tasks will be given during the workshops and are to be completed in-class. They might include completion of worksheets, reflective tasks, hands-on practice, mini in-class tests etc. There will be minimum four random collections of those tasks, of which the three best ones will be chosen.

Type of Collaboration

During the workshop, students may work individually or in a group. Assessments are based on individual performance.

Format / Submission

Further details will be provided on the MKTG306 iLearn Unit page and during the workshops.

Additional Notes on Late Submissions

Students must attend all workshops and also complete the tasks issued by the tutor. Completed task will only be collected during the workshops. Late or e-mail submission will not be accepted. No extension will be granted.

If you miss a workshop which a task is collected, you will either lose one of the opportunities to submit your work (1st absence) or marks each time you are absent (2nd absence onwards).

In view of the flexibility provided, application for Special Consideration will only be reviewed where the disruption lasted for at least two consecutive workshops.

Transference of marks is not permissible across assessment tasks.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the concepts and approaches to e-business marketing
- Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age
- Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

A3 Final Examination

Due: University Examination Period

Weighting: 40%

Task Description

A closed-book 3-hours final examination for this unit will be held during the University Examination period.

A final examination is included as an assessment task for this unit to provide assurance that: (i) the product belongs to the student and ii) the student has attained the knowledge and skills tested in the exam.

Type of Collaboration

Individual

Format / Length

Further information about the Final Exam will be provided in Week-13, Review Lecture.

Additional Notes on Final Examination

Students are expected to present themselves for examination at the time and place designated in the University Examination Timetable.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Assessment task

- A1 Project

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Explain the concepts and approaches to e-business marketing
- Identify the different elements of the macro and micro-environment that impact on an organisation's e-marketing strategy
- Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age
- Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

Assessment tasks

- A1 Project
- A2 In-Class Activities
- A3 Final Examination

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Explain the concepts and approaches to e-business marketing
- Identify the different elements of the macro and micro-environment that impact on an organisation's e-marketing strategy
- Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age
- Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

Assessment tasks

- A1 Project
- A2 In-Class Activities
- A3 Final Examination

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify the different elements of the macro and micro-environment that impact on an organisation's e-marketing strategy
- Apply contemporary and emerging skills and capabilities required for marketing in the digital age
- Critically evaluate and reflect upon specific marketing decisions and e-marketing strategies through interactive learning techniques for individuals and groups

Assessment tasks

- A1 Project
- A2 In-Class Activities

Changes from Previous Offering

A1 Project: In-Class Presentation replaced a written digital marketing plan.

Research & Practice, Global contexts & Sustainability

Research & Practice

This unit gives students opportunities to conduct their own research and gives them practice in applying research findings in their assignments. It uses research from external sources and Macquarie University researchers, for example:

Ang, Lawrence (2011). Community relationship management and social media, Journal of Database Marketing & Customer Strategy Management, 18, 31–38.

Global contexts & Sustainability

This unit prepares students for a globalised world of scientific and technological advance. In this unit, students will learn about the dynamic world of digital marketing. They will develop knowledge and understanding of the fundamentals of e-business marketing principles, which they can implement to support the strategy, desired goal and sustainable growth for both organisations and society at large.
