Unit description

This unit will enable students to attain well-developed cognitive and practical key legal skills (legal research, reasoning, and writing; applying precedent; statutory interpretation; and legal problem solving) and to acquire an advance level of foundational legal knowledge (Australia legal institutions; legal theory; comparative legal systems; parliamentary process; role of the judiciary) necessary for further graduate study in law. This unit will challenge students to apply their skills and knowledge to examine a contemporary socio-legal issue through a collaborative group project. Students will also engage in reflective practice.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)

Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles

Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving

Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences

Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms and foundational elements of the Australian legal system

General Assessment Information

This unit is ungraded and will not count towards a student's CGPA (Cumulative Grade Point Average). Students will be awarded 'Satisfactory' or 'Fail' at the end of the unit. All assessment tasks in this unit are 'hurdle requirements' and must be completed at a Satisfactory level (to the standard prescribed for each assessment task) in order to pass this unit. Completion of LAWS600 is a compulsory unit in the JD program.

In cases where students fail to complete one assessment task at a Satisfactory level (to the standard prescribed for the assessment task), provided that they have made genuine attempts at both initial and supplementary work on that task, the Convenor may provide one further opportunity to reattempt the task or carry out supplementary work in order to achieve the required learning outcome(s). The Convenor will base this decision on a review of the student's work across the unit in consultation with the student's tutor.

The Faculty of Arts Late Submission Policy requires that: "Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests." Please note that this rule applies to the due date of applicable assessment tasks in this unit; the rule does not apply to a subsequent deadline prescribed for an assessment task for the purpose of completing supplementary work or re-attempts of online quizzes in order to satisfy hurdle requirements.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Academic Honesty & Referencing	5%	Yes	11 March 2019 10am
Core Skills	30%	Yes	25 March 2019 10am
Legal Research Quizzes	15%	Yes	8 April 2019 10am
Hypothetical Problem	20%	Yes	22 April 2019 10am
Reflection on Law	15%	Yes	20 May 2019 10am
Legal Foundations Quiz	15%	Yes	6 June 2019 10am

Academic Honesty & Referencing

Due: 11 March 2019 10am

Weighting: 5%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 1 consists of two online multiple choice quizzes in which students will demonstrate their ability to apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation.

Students must attain a score of 100% for both quizzes in order to pass this assessment. Students who have made a serious attempt to complete both quizzes by the due date (but have failed to achieve the required score of 100% for either quiz) may re-attempt each quiz as often as needed to attain the required score of 100%, but must achieve this result by no later than by 18 March 2019 10am.

Students who fail to attain a score of 100% on either quiz will receive a fail grade for the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)

Core Skills

Due: 25 March 2019 10am

Weighting: 30%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 2 consists of a short written assignment (max. 2,500 words) to demonstrate the following core skills:

- understanding of principles of statutory interpretation;
- the ability to clearly and concisely summarise a case;
- understanding of the doctrine of precedent;
- the ability to interpret case law and legislation for the purpose of deriving and constructing legal rules and principles;
- the ability to carry out basic legal research tasks, including finding and analysing relevant primary and secondary sources; and
- the ability to communicate effectively in a written form.

Students must attain a grade of 'satisfactory' on each criterion set out in the marking rubric in order to pass this assessment. Students who have made a serious attempt to complete the assignment by the due date (but have not attained a 'satisfactory' grade on each criterion in the marking rubric) will be afforded one opportunity to achieve the assessment's learning outcomes. Students will be required to correct and resubmit relevant parts of their work, taking into account feedback provided by their tutor, and explain how they have incorporated this feedback.

Students who do not attain a grade of 'satisfactory' for each criterion of the marking rubric in supplementary work submitted by 15 April 2019 10am will receive a fail grade for the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Legal Research Quizzes

Due: 8 April 2019 10am

Weighting: 15%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 3 consists of 9 online quizzes on the following topics:

1. The Constitution
2. Commonwealth Legislation

3. NSW Legislation
4. Case Law
5. HANSARD
6. Domestic Legislation (outside NSW)
7. International Law
8. Law Reform Commissions
9. Judicial Commission

Serious first attempts on all quizzes must be made by students by the due date.

Quizzes may be repeated as often as required to achieve the minimum score of 70% on each quiz by 20 May 2019 10am in order to pass this assessment and achieve the associated learning outcome.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Hypothetical Problem

Due: 22 April 2019 10am

Weighting: 20%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 4 consists of a short written assignment (1,000 - 1,250 words) where students will solve a hypothetical problem in public law. Students will be required to demonstrate:

- the ability to analyse factual scenarios and identify relevant legal issues;
- the ability to understand and apply basic principles of legal problem solving and reasoning;
- the ability to carry out basic legal research tasks, including finding and analysing relevant primary and secondary sources;
- the ability to communicate effectively in a written form to a legal audience.

Students must attain a grade of 'satisfactory' on each criterion set out in the marking rubric in order to pass this assessment. Students who have made a serious attempt to complete the assignment by the due date (but have not attained a 'satisfactory' grade on each criterion in the marking rubric) will be afforded one further opportunity to achieve the assessment's learning outcomes. Students will be required to correct and resubmit relevant parts of their work, taking into account feedback provided by their tutor, and explain how they have incorporated this feedback.

Students who do not attain a grade of 'satisfactory' for each criterion of the marking rubric in supplementary work submitted by 13 May 2019 10am will receive a fail grade for the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Reflection on Law

Due: 20 May 2019 10am

Weighting: 15%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 5 consists of a written submission (Reflection on Contemporary Issues in Australian Law). Students are to select a media article concerning the effectiveness of Australian legal frameworks in addressing a contemporary legal issue of their choice. The article may be sourced from print or online media, must have been published within six months of the assessment due date, and be appropriately cited in compliance with the AGLC4.

Students will respond to their chosen article in a reflective piece of no greater than 1,500 words explaining their reaction to the ideas discussed in the article. Students must ensure that their responses are informed by contemporary legal scholarship, demonstrated through reference to at least three peer-reviewed journal articles related to the article's subject matter.

Students will be required to demonstrate their ability to:

- engage with contemporary legal problems in their social context;
- communicate effectively in written form with a non-legal audience;
- carry out basic research, including finding and analysing secondary sources;
- the ability to demonstrate their understanding of the broader philosophical, ethical and/or socio-political context of legal issues and problems; and
- engage in reflective practice as future legal professionals.

Students who do not complete the task by the due date at a satisfactory level to achieve the required learning outcomes to pass the assessment (against the rubric provided) will be afforded one opportunity to revise and resubmit their work in accordance with instructions provided by the tutor by no later than 3 June 2019 10am.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Legal Foundations Quiz

Due: 6 June 2019 10am

Weighting: 15%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Assessment Task 7 will require students to demonstrate their understanding of foundational concepts necessary for further study in law attained from assigned readings throughout the unit. Students will be required to complete a timed online quiz (1 hour to complete from commencement) and attain a minimum score of 75%.

This is a timed assessment and no late submissions will be accepted. Alternative arrangements will only be made for students lodging a successful application for special consideration.

The Quiz will be released on the Monday 3 June 2019 at 10am and remain open until 10am of Thursday 6 June 2019.

Students who fail to complete the quiz at the required level of 75% may re-attempt the quiz once between 10am on Friday 7 June 2019 and 10pm of Sunday 9 June 2019.

For students who fail to attain a score of 75% on this quiz (best of two attempts) the Unit Convenor will review their performance across the unit in consultation with tutors. Provided that all other work in the unit has been satisfactory, the Convenor may then allow the student one final re-attempt of the quiz before grades are resolved for the semester. Students will be notified of the outcome of this determination by 10am Monday 17 June 2019 and will be required to re-attempt the quiz by no later than 10 am 24 June 2019.

Students who fail to complete this Assessment at a 'Satisfactory' level will receive a Fail grade in the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms and foundational elements of the Australian legal system

Delivery and Resources

Delivery

This unit has a blended form of delivery and includes online content in lieu of formal lectures. Online content can be accessed at: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>.

Tutorials (1-hour weekly) for Internal Students commence in Week 1 of semester and conclude in Week 12. Students should consult the official Timetable for class dates, times and locations at: <http://timetables.mq.edu.au>

Computer and Internet access are required in order to successfully complete this unit. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement.

Students are required to monitor their official @students.mq.edu.au e-mail address for direct communications by the unit convenor or tutor, and are also required to monitor the Announcements forum on the units online web page.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Assessment task

- Reflection on Law

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Assessment tasks

- Academic Honesty & Referencing
- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms and foundational elements of the Australian legal system

Assessment tasks

- Academic Honesty & Referencing
- Core Skills
- Legal Research Quizzes
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law
- Legal Foundations Quiz

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules

and principles

- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Legal Research Quizzes
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC4)

Assessment tasks

- Academic Honesty & Referencing
- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Reflection on Law

Changes from Previous Offering

1. General Assessment instructions clarified.
2. Assessment task previously known as 'Law and Policy Reform Project' revised and split into two assessments: 'Reflection on Law' and 'Legal Foundations Quiz'.
3. Learning outcome and mapping adjusted to incorporate learning outcome, 'Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms and foundational elements of the Australian legal system', tested through the Legal Foundations Quiz.
