Unit description
This unit requires students to draw on theoretical and discipline knowledge and use these to engage actively in a current and topical policy problem. The students will have opportunities to consult experts and stakeholders in a given policy area and identify relevant evidence, expert opinion and stakeholder views. Students will explore a range of problem definitions and scenarios, and consider alternative policy solutions. Working collaboratively in teams, students will develop and present a comprehensive and constructive policy proposal which demonstrates an awareness of ethical, political, social, economic and cultural factors which are significant in the specific policy context.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Identify, critically analyse and synthesise evidence which is relevant to policy making from a wide range of cross-disciplinary sources

Apply theoretical material related to public policy to a specific real-world policy problem

Critically consider a range of factors affecting problem definition and the development of appropriate policy solutions

Identify and respond to ethical, political, social, economic and cultural factors which are significant in a specific policy context

Communicate policy recommendations effectively and appropriately to specialist and non-specialist audiences

General Assessment Information

Assignment Submission for Short Essay and Policy Analysis

These two written assignments must be submitted using the "Turnitin Assignments" facility on the iLearn website. This facility includes software which scans the uploaded assignments for plagiarism. Follow the instructions on the screen carefully. Your assignment should be uploaded before midnight on the due date.

In all cases, you should ensure that you keep a copy of the assignment.

Return of marked work

Marked assignments will be returned via the same facility on iLearn. When marks are released, you will need to go back in to the assignment submission box, and open your uploaded assignment. When you click on the "GradeMark" button, you will be able to see the marker's comments on your work. You can save or print the essay with the comments.

Marks and comments for the Short Reflections will be provided by email.

Extensions

Extensions will only be granted in exceptional circumstances, and will require documentary evidence such as a medical certificate to support the request for an extension. You should contact the convenor as early as possible if you think you may need an extension. While we do understand that most students are engaged in paid employment, extensions cannot be granted on this basis alone.

Late Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Short reflections	35%	No	Weeks 3, 5, 7, 9
Short Essay (Scoping Paper)	25%	No	Friday of Week 8
Policy Analysis	40%	No	Friday of Week 13

Short reflections

Due: Weeks 3, 5, 7, 9
Weighting: 35%

You will be required to post a short reflection of 750 words on set topics each fortnight. There will be a total of 4 of these blog posts over the semester. These will be posted on a blog inside iLearn so that other students can read and respond to your work. Your blog posts should be based on careful reflection and analysis of the unit readings.

Further details will be provided on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply theoretical material related to public policy to a specific real-world policy problem
- Identify and respond to ethical, political, social, economic and cultural factors which are significant in a specific policy context

Short Essay (Scoping Paper)

Due: Friday of Week 8
Weighting: 25%

This short essay should be presented as a scoping document, outlining your understanding of the policy problem which we are working on throughout this unit. You will be expected to conduct independent research for this task. Your essay should consider the following aspects of the policy problem:

- the purpose of the policy and how it fits with other policies in the same area
- analysis of the problem definition, including alternative definitions
- assumptions which impact on your policy proposal (including assessment of the ethical, economic, social and cultural factors which are significant in this specific context)
- assessment of the constraints in terms of resources, timing, public opinion, and political context

Further details, including the marking criteria, will be provided on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:
- Identify, critically analyse and synthesise evidence which is relevant to policy making from a wide range of cross-disciplinary sources
- Apply theoretical material related to public policy to a specific real-world policy problem
- Critically consider a range of factors affecting problem definition and the development of appropriate policy solutions
- Identify and respond to ethical, political, social, economic and cultural factors which are significant in a specific policy context

Policy Analysis

Due: Friday of Week 13
Weighting: 40%

This final assessment task requires you to present your analysis of the policy problem and its context, and to explain your choice of policy recommendations to address the problem. This essay will build on previous assessment tasks.

Your analysis should include consideration of the following aspects:

- problem definition
- stakeholder positions
- available resources
- appropriate selection of policy instruments
- potential delivery issues
- proposed criteria for evaluation of the policy

Further details, including the marking criteria, will be posted on iLearn.
