Unit description

Business-to-business markets differ significantly from business-to-consumer markets, and present unique challenges and opportunities for marketers. Business customers are driven by different needs, engage in complex purchase decision-making processes, and respond differently to marketing stimuli. In facing the challenges and opportunities in business markets, marketers need to apply specific strategies to develop value offerings, communicate those offerings to stimulate purchase behaviours, and work to sustain long lasting business relationships with customers. This unit develops students' knowledge to apply business-to-business marketing theories and principles to solve business-to-business marketing problems. Students learn how to analyze business-to-business networks and identify opportunities to offer superior value to customers.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Delivery and Resources

Classes

This unit has 3 hours online and face-to-face teaching per week, consisting of 1 hour recorded online lecture and activities and 1 x 2-hour workshop as per unit schedule during the semester. Students may enrol in one of the workshops. Please check the unit timetable for further information. The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au>.

Technology Used and Required

- Please ensure that you have access to a personal computer so you are able to access internet, use word processing software and power point program that are required for preparation of assignments and presentations.

Unit Web Page

- Course material is available on the learning management system (iLearn) at: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au>.
- Students will find teaching resources to assist their study on iLearn, such as lecture notes, practice questions and other resources.
- Students are required to check iLearn regularly for announcements.

What is expected from students?

This unit is 1 hours online lecture and activities and 1x2 hour workshop per week over 13 weeks. The total time commitment required for this unit is a minimum of 150 hours. Specifically, in addition to the 3 hours of class contact per week, students are expected to devote an additional 10 hours in self-directed study. This includes time spent in preparing for classes, preparing for and completing assessment tasks, together with time spent in general study, and revision. It is expected that all students come to the class on time and fully prepared for discussion.

Students are expected to complete all assessment tasks for this subject. Successful completion of this unit requires the student to achieve at least 50% in total in the assessment tasks offered.

Prescribed and Recommended Texts and/or Materials

Throughout the semester, a combination of textbooks, journal articles, and online materials (e.g. links to websites, online videos) will be used as learning resources. All resources are accessible from iLearn. Students are recommended to purchase the prescribed textbook.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Analyse business-to-business environment to identify opportunities.

Assessment task

- Business Analysis Report

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Explain and apply the theories and concepts underpinning Business-to-Business Marketing.

Assessment task

- In Class Activities

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Analyse business-to-business environment to identify opportunities.

Assessment task

- Business Analysis Report

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Identify and solve business-to-business marketing problems.

Assessment task

- Case Study Analysis

Changes from Previous Offering

Delivery of this unit from traditional teaching has changed to more interactive teaching. Students will engage in their learning in both online and in the classroom. This way of teaching is flexible and students can plan and manage their learning to a great extent that suits them.

Research & Practice, Global contexts & Sustainability

This unit addresses integration of research and practice by analysing business environment and practices.
