Unit description

Modernity is characterised by a number of specific developments such as: democracy, capitalism, industrialism, nationalism, individualism and bureaucratisation. These are partly antagonistic, partly complementary tendencies. In this unit we will be examining these diverse trends through the prism of a range of classical theories of modern society. We will consider from among the following: Marx, Nietzsche, Weber, Durkheim, Mead, the Frankfurt School and Foucault. None of these has the key but we suggest that all remain a vital source of illumination into tendencies and potentials of the contemporary world. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.open.edu.au/student-admin-and-support/key-dates/>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Understand and integrate a range of theories and principles relating to social structures, institutions and human agency.

Evaluate and apply critical concepts, theories and thinkers in classical and contemporary sociology.

Identify and solve sociological problems in some of the following areas: cultural sociology; work and employment; migration; crime and deviance, gender; social policy; human services; economic sociology; and sociological theory

Effective communication of sociological knowledge and research to expert and lay audiences, as an individual or in a team

Develop excellence in critical thinking and writing skills.

Ability to think critically about social problems and their ethical consequences.

General Assessment Information

All four tutorial exercises are to be submitted via Turnitin by 5pm on the due dates.

Late Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Participation	20%	No	Ongoing
Essay 1	20%	No	Week 6, 5 April
Essay 2	30%	No	Week 8, 3 May
Essay 3	30%	No	Week 13, 7 June

Participation

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Participation requires you to think about the topics and discuss them with others in preparation for your written assessment tasks.

Your contribution will be assessed on the basis of your familiarity with and understanding of the weekly unit contents.

For external/OUA students participation requires going on the weekly discussion boards on iLearn where you will discuss the readings and their relevance to contemporary social issues. You are expected to post your contributions during the same week in which a particular topic is discussed (by Sunday evening of that week at the latest).

For internal students participation requires engaging in on-campus tutorial activities. This means you will have read the weekly readings and prepared notes about them to bring to the seminar.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Understand and integrate a range of theories and principles relating to social structures, institutions and human agency.
- Evaluate and apply critical concepts, theories and thinkers in classical and contemporary sociology.
- Identify and solve sociological problems in some of the following areas: cultural sociology; work and employment; migration; crime and deviance, gender; social policy; human services; economic sociology; and sociological theory
- Effective communication of sociological knowledge and research to expert and lay audiences, as an individual or in a team
- Develop excellence in critical thinking and writing skills.
- Ability to think critically about social problems and their ethical consequences.

Special Consideration Policy and Procedure
(<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>)

The University recognises that students may experience events or conditions that adversely affect their academic performance. If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties at exam time or when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration.

You need to show that the circumstances:

1. were serious, unexpected and unavoidable
2. were beyond your control
3. caused substantial disruption to your academic work
4. substantially interfered with your otherwise satisfactory fulfilment of the unit requirements
5. lasted at least three consecutive days or a total of 5 days within the teaching period and prevented completion of an assessment task scheduled for a specific date.

If you feel that your studies have been impacted submit an application as follows:

1. Visit Ask MQ and use your OneID to log in
2. Fill in your relevant details
3. Attach supporting documents by clicking 'Add a reply', click 'Browse' and navigating to the files you want to attach, then click 'Submit Form' to send your notification and supporting documents
4. Please keep copies of your original documents, as they may be requested in the future as part of the assessment process

Outcome

Once your submission is assessed, an appropriate outcome will be organised.

OUA Specific Policies and Procedures

Withdrawal from a unit after the census date

You can withdraw from your subjects prior to the census date (last day to withdraw). If you successfully withdraw before the census date, you won't need to apply for Special Circumstances.
