Unit description

This unit provides students with a detailed understanding of contemporary financial reporting issues from an Australian and international perspective. The unit examines the role of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and of regulatory institutions influencing the timing and content of financial reporting in Australia. Students will examine how a reporting entity must present a complete set of financial reports, including consolidated cash flow reporting. Additionally, students will examine two important accounting issues, the application of Fair Value and the legal and practical application of insolvency and liquidation, from an Australian perspective. The second part of the course builds on corporate reporting by examining the contemporary application of corporate governance disclosures, social and environmental reporting, integrated reporting, and advancements in non-financial reporting. The course closes by examining a current or impending change in Australian Accounting Standards. The unit builds on the knowledge base acquired from earlier accounting units with emphasis on the application of technical skills. The unit also provides students with an understanding of quantitative research which helps develop students' ability to read and analyse financial reports.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Apply a selection of technical requirements to the presentation of financial statements in the Australian context and show as the ability to work in a group environment to develop solutions to complex accounting issues.

Understand and apply the concepts of insolvency and liquidation from an Australian perspective.

Use quantitative accounting information in the financial reports to make critical judgements and aid in decision making.

Critically explain, analyse, and apply principles of financial and non-financial reporting to contemporary issues and outline future directions.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
In-class Test	15%	No	Week 7
Class presentation	15%	No	Weeks 8-12
Financial Analysis Report	20%	No	9 am September 30, 2019
Exam	50%	No	Exam period

In-class Test

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 15%

Task Description: In-class test Type of Collaboration: Individual Submission: In-class Format: Test Length: 1-hour Inherent Task Requirements: Test covering all material up to Week 6. Late Submission:

There are no extensions for this assessment. Students must be present in Class when the test is given or else they will receive a zero grade. This penalty does not apply to cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Understand and apply the current political, legal and regulatory aspects influencing the presentation of financial reports for Australian companies in a specific context.
- Apply a selection of technical requirements to the presentation of financial statements in the Australian context and show as the ability to work in a group environment to develop solutions to complex accounting issues.
- Understand and apply the concepts of insolvency and liquidation from an Australian perspective.
- Use quantitative accounting information in the financial reports to make critical judgements and aid in decision making.

Class presentation

Due: Weeks 8-12

Weighting: 15%

Task Description:

Presentation and report

Type of Collaboration: Students will be allowed to work in groups of 4. Submission: The full report must be submitted to Turnitin by each student by 9 am one week after the assigned presentation date. A hard copy of the PowerPoint presentation must be handed to the lecturer, and a soft copy must be emailed (john.dumay@mq.edu.au) before beginning the presentation.

Format: PowerPoint presentation plus written report Length: 2000 words Inherent Task Requirements:

Students will work in groups of a maximum of 4 and choose one of the following topics as the basis of an in-class PowerPoint Presentation and a 2000-word report on the current status of the topic from a reporting perspective using examples from a specific company. The report consists of four 500 word parts

1. Define the topic;
2. Outline the regulatory requirements from a reporting perspective;
3. Identify "material" issues in business and society related to the topic and give example(s) of how the company is addressing the topic; and
4. Outline the challenges facing reporting using the topic in the future.

Each section must refer to both the general topic and provide examples from the specific company.

Each student must identify one 500-word part for individual assessment, and the group mark is based on the overall synthesis of the report. The presentation will have a 20-minute time limit and have a maximum of 14 slides which allows for an introduction and conclusion slide, and 3 slides for each part. Each student must present their own part during the PowerPoint presentation. 50% of the mark is a shared group mark and 50% will be attributed to individual students.

Topics and weeks are:

- Week 8 - Materiality
- Week 9 - Fair Value Accounting
- Week 10 - Australian Corporate Governance Guidelines
- Week 11 - Integrated Reporting
- Week 12 - Social and Environmental Reporting

Late Submission:

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Understand and apply the current political, legal and regulatory aspects influencing the presentation of financial reports for Australian companies in a specific context.
- Apply a selection of technical requirements to the presentation of financial statements in the Australian context and show as the ability to work in a group environment to develop solutions to complex accounting issues.

- Critically explain, analyse, and apply principles of financial and non-financial reporting to contemporary issues and outline future directions.

Financial Analysis Report

Due: 9 am September 30, 2019

Weighting: 20%

Task Description:

Financial Analysis Report

Type of Collaboration: Individual Submission: All essays must be submitted via Turnitin. Hard copies will not be accepted. Format: IDEALS Framework essay Length: 2000-words (+/- 10%)

Inherent Task Requirements:

Analysis of corporate liquidity - Your role is to use the annual reports from Harvey Norman Holdings to investigate the liquidity and insolvency risk of Harvey Norman Holdings from an accounting perspective. In this maximum 2000-word essay, you must use the IDEALS framework to critically analyse the financial performance of Harvey Norman Holdings and whether or not it is in danger of becoming insolvent. Essential elements of the essay are:

- In the section 'Defining the context', you must include a single table of the liquidity ratios covered in class, and the Altman's Z-score for Harvey Norman Holdings and its major competitor JB Hi-Fi for at least the past three years (2017-19).
- From the context of the liquidity ratios, identify and provide reasons for selecting three core financial performance issues that Harvey Norman Holdings should address to lower the risk of insolvency. These must be linked to issues included in the Operating and Financial Review section of the Harvey Norman Holdings annual reports.
- Further discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the three key performance issues compared to its major competitor JB Hi-Fi by referring to data from the financial reports, operating and financial reviews and comparisons with retail industry benchmarks covered in class.
- To conclude the essay, identify the most important issue Harvey Norman Holdings needs to address to prevent potential insolvency.

A reference list is required and does not form part of the word count. If you disclose information without having it properly referenced, you will be subject to the academic honesty and plagiarism policy. In line with the University policy and all such cases will be referred to the Faculty Discipline Committee. It is required that you use EndNote for referencing and the APA 6th Style for your reference list.

Late Submission:

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Understand and apply the concepts of insolvency and liquidation from an Australian perspective.
- Use quantitative accounting information in the financial reports to make critical judgements and aid in decision making.

Changes from Previous Offering

The course consists of both case study research and required readings. The observations from last semester are that students did not engage enough with the required readings in their assessments, so more emphasis will be placed on the engagement with those readings. Additionally, the slides and material will be updated to reflect changes to the topics so that they remain current. The order of the presentation topics has been changed as the Materiality topic will now be covered first in week 7 as it is an important concept to understand for the report assessment and the presentations.
