General Assessment Information

Submission of assessments

All written assessments in the unit are to be submitted electronically (via Turnitin). Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit. Students need access to a secure and reliable server for access to iLearn and submission of assessment tasks.

Please ensure that you name your documents appropriately and post the correct version of your assignment on Turnitin, as alternative versions will not be accepted after the submission deadline. Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

All written work should be referenced in accordance with the current version of the Australian Guide to Legal Citation (AGLC)

Moderation

Detailed marking rubrics will be available on iLearn. Failed papers will be double marked.

Participation and Engagement

Due: On Campus Session Weighting: 10%

Students are required to attend and participate in the On Campus Session discussions, debates, reflective exercises and any other activities. Assessment of student participation and engagement will be undertaken during the On Campus Session using the following criteria:

1. Substantive Requirements in relation to Participation and Engagement

Students will be assessed on the basis of their knowledge, understanding and ability critically to evaluate the issues raised in each topic, as demonstrated through participation in class discussions. Students will be expected to lead discussion and talk about the assigned readings, provide their own assessment of those readings and lecture content, and contribute to the discussion of questions and problems set in relation to assigned readings and lectures. Students are also encouraged to participate in online discussion forums on tutorial questions on iLearn. Further details on the On Campus Session and online discussion and participation rubric will be posted on iLearn.

2. Preparation and understanding of material: Students have listened to the lecture, read the required reading and has attempted to link the materials to the lectures, to other course materials and to their life experience.

3. Ability to think critically about the material: Students are able to think critically about the materials from different angles and is able to question the materials.

4. Clear expression of ideas: Students are able to clearly express their ideas about the materials.

5. Engaging with other students: Students engage with others in the class taking an active role in activities assigned by the tutor. The student responds to others in the class by listening to them, providing constructive feedback and asking questions.

6. Demonstration of skills: Students are able to demonstrate communication skills including listening, advocacy, argument and negotiation skills.

Extended absences from the On Campus Session must meet the criteria for Special Consideration. Applications for Special Consideration are made online at ask.mq.edu.au and must be accompanied by the appropriate documentation.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1.
